MAMMOTH STRIKE OF GE CALLED OFF

Appeal By LBJ Is Heeded

But Three Groups Still Walk Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least 14,800 union employees of the General Electric Corp. walked off their jobs at three plants today. But a nationwide strike against the huge defense supplier appeared to have been averted by a presidential plea.

President Johnson asked the company and unions to maintain plant operations while negotiations continued, contending a strike would damage the Viet Nam war effort.

About 13,300 workers walked off their jobs at GE's Schenectady, N.Y., plant, some 1,100 employees struck the firm's Carboloy Products Division at Warren, Mich., and 400 union draftsmen struck the GE plant at Pittsfield, Mass. Union spokesmen said these walkouts involved local issues.

The remaining 105,200 union employees apparently were honoring the President's plea for a two-week postponement in a nationwide walkout which had been scheduled for 12:01 a.m. today, when their contracts expired.

Three Cabinet members, including Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are joining negotiations that shift today to Washington after stalemating Sunday in New York. Talks are to begin at 2 p.m. EDT.

LBJ'S PLEA

A nationwide strike had appeared imminent when the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers rejected the key defense supplier's latest offer Sunday. Ten other unions representing 40,000 GE employees had been expected to follow the lead of the 80,000 IUE workers.

But Johnson asked the company and unions to continue plant operations, saying "our men in Viet Nam need these planes, these helicopters, these weapons. They are essential to their very lives. And they need them now—not next week or next month."

Formal acceptance of his request by union leaders was announced in New York four hours before the strike deadline but indications were that agreement had been reached with the President even before his statement was made public. The unions required that the expiring contract be continued during the two weeks.

"The presidential request has nothing to do with us," said Richard Bradley, business agent for IUE Local 301 representing 12,000 workers at the Schenectady plant. He said Local 301 members and 1,300 members of other unions staged the walkout over local issues and not those involved in national negotiations.

The strike idled about 23,000 workers at the Schenectady plant, producer of large steam turbines.

The Carboloy plant, sole producer of manmade diamonds in the United States and a maker of tungsten carbide cutting tools, was struck by members of the United Auto Workers Local 771 whose contract expired at the same time as IUE's. The

Scout Mayo Smith Takes Over Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Mayo Smith, a scout for the New York Yankees and a former manager of the Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Reds, today was named manager of the Detroit Tigers baseball team in the American League.

The announcement was made by James Campbell, Tigers general manager, at a news conference.

It ended weeks of speculation over a successor to the late Charlie Dressen, which included reports of fabulous offers to such well known managers as Ralph Houk of the Yankees, Bill Rigney of the California Angels and the retired Al Lopez.

Dressen died in August following a heart attack as his second place Tigers were making a bid for the American League pennant.

Rob Swift, a coach, had been acting manager for several weeks before Dressen's death but was sidelined with lung cancer.

FINISHED THIRD

The team finished its season Sunday in third place 10 games back of Baltimore with another coach, Frank Skiff, at the helm. Smith, 51, was given a two-year contract. His salary was not disclosed but it was reported to be in the $25,000-$30,000 a year bracket.

A native of New London, Mo., Smith played almost 20 years of

Work Grinds On In Slaying Probe

Search For Valerie Percy's Killer Is Slow

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

EDITOR'S NOTE: More than two weeks have passed since Valerie Percy, honey-blonde daughter of Republican leader Charles H. Percy, was murdered in a crime that shocked the nation. Here is a report on the massive investigation to track down her killer.

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — On the chilly morning of Sept. 18, the stillness that surrounded the mansion where Valerie Percy, 21, lay murdered was disturbed by the movements of four men.

They carried cameras, fingerprinting equipment and a vacuum cleaner. They moved quickly from the bedroom where the daughter of Charles H. Percy was beaten and stabbed, to the patio where her killer entered the home. They lifted fingerprints from every surface, they photographed footprints on a nearby beach.

They were specialists from the Chicago Crime Laboratory. After two weeks of research, inspection and interrogation, their 17 bags of physical evidence contain the only links to the identity of the murderer.

PREPARING REPORT

The laboratory director, Capt. Daniel Dragel, said the complete report on the evidence would be ready this week.

While Dragel's men scoured the Percy home and grounds, Robert M. Daley, police chief of Kenilworth, a Chicago suburb, interviewed the Percy family. The Percys went into seclusion but plan to return home this week.

Daley, a 34-year veteran of the force and its chief for seven years, was in the first hours of an investigation that differed immeasurably from his normal routine of traffic accidents and minor thefts.

Detectives from the state's attorney's office and the U.S. Coast Guard joined the investigation. The Coast Guard began four days of dragging the shoreline and a scuba diver peered along the sand bottom of Lake Michigan searching for the weapons police said the killer carried: A double-edged knife, a glass cutter, a flashlight and an arrow-shaped hard metal instrument.

Daley's immediate reconstruction of the crime indicated the killer approached the home from the beach, cut through a screen and glass panel of a patio door and murdered Valerie by inflicting four blows on the left side of her head and numerous stab wounds.

UNKNOWN MOTIVE

He said there was no apparent motive and no reason to believe Valerie was the intended victim. Among the bags of evidence was a wet woolen man's glove found 30 feet from the home. The bulk of physical evidence was taken to the crime laboratory where the tedious task of analysis began. The chore of sorting out more than 300 leads faced Daley.

They included:

A neighbor's report of a green station wagon parked by the Percy home at dawn the morning of the killing.

A composite drawing of a youth who had beaten a girl in her bedroom in nearby Evanston in June.

A list of 160 persons compiled by Percy. Each one had visited or knew the layout of the 17-room home.

BUT U.S. SHIPS STALLED

From Associated Press

U.S. troops had an enemy force "really on the run" in South Viet Nam today, but the effort was being hampered by a shipping bottleneck in Saigon harbor.

Helicopter-hopping U. S. troops pounced on a fleeing Communist force today and reported killing 117 more of the enemy in mountains near South Viet Nam's central coast.

The added dead raised to 227 the two-day toll taken by units of the 1st Air Cavalry, Airmobile Division which fought a furious battle Sunday with the Communists and reported 110 killed.

Reports from the battle area 30 miles north of the coastal city of Qui Nhon said the number of Communist dead was still climbing.

The Communist unit was a mixed force of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong.

Official U.S. sources said casualties among the chopper-lifted cavalrymen were light. "They've really got them on the run," said a spokesman.

'COPTERS DOWNED

The battle began after the enemy shot down three U.S. helicopters, prompting the cavalrymen to charge the force of more than 500 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops. The helicopters were recovered.

The new fighting along the central coast shifted attention away from the prolonged fight by the U.S. Marines just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Viet Nam.

In Saigon harbor the shipping backlog has become so serious that more than 60 freighters are waiting to be unloaded at this key port, U.S. officials and shipping sources said today.

These experts blamed the situation largely on mismanagement.

Ford's New Batteries Spur Work On Dream

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported today it has achieved a major breakthrough by developing a new type battery which could pave the way for return of the electric-powered auto to U.S. highways.

Michael Ference Jr., Ford vice president for scientific research, said the new battery could store up to 15 times as much energy as present lead-acid storage batteries.

The firm disclosed Sept. 15 that it was working on the electric car project.

Ference said in a prepared statement that Ford Motor Co. and Ford of England have joined forces to build two prototype models of the proposed electric car.

The two companies described the new product, the first experimental model of which is being built in England now, as a low-cost, subcompact limited performance 'city car' to carry two adults and two passengers.

START CONVENTIONALLY

The first two cars, one designed for testing in England and the other in metropolitan and suburban areas of the United States, will be powered initially by lead-acid batteries, such as those now used in cars.

Ference said Ford has developed a new type sodium-sulfur battery, which is still in its early stages.

He added, "It promises to meet the over-all needs of an efficient, low-cost, compact, urban-suburban electric vehicle requiring only overnight recharging."

GUESSES AT RANGE

Ference estimated that the electric car, powered by the new battery, would have a range of 150 miles at 40-miles-an-hour speed.

An artist's sketch of the proposed car looks like an abridged version of Ford's Econo-van. The battery and the motor were installed under the floor on the driver's side of the vehicle.

Ford said it had two major vehicle concepts in mind as the project moved along the drawing board:

1. The city car, aimed at the suburban shopper. This was designed as a low-speed, limited-range vehicle, suitable for downtown operation in crowded cities such as London or for running errands in residential areas.

2. Local delivery vans, such as post office trucks which have a limited area in which they travel and which make many starts and stops in a day.

Ford's first experimental car was to have an over-all length

Christmas Without Religious Symbols?

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A controversy is stirring in Pittsburgh over whether the nativity scene should be part of the city's Christmas display. The American Civil Liberties Union says no. Two city councilmen say yes and Michael Musmanno, justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, agrees. It's been three years since the Nativity has been part of the holiday scene in the downtown Golden Triangle. But the City Council didn't discover this until the other day when the Department of Parks and Recreation requested $4,500 from council for the display—minus the Nativity. Councilmen Walter Kamyk and Patrick T. Fagan said they would vote against the appropriation if the Nativity was not included. The ACLU said, "The use of public funds of public property for the display of religious symbolism is a governmental endorsement of a particular religion and, therefore, a violation of the Constitution of the United States." Musmanno called the affair "another manifestation of the dreadful program begun some time ago to rake religion out of the hearts of the American people."

A deer was killed Saturday when it bounced onto I-94 and slammed into a car, near the M-139 interchange, in Sodus township.

JUNIOR MISS--SINGER, DANCER AND BEAUTY

Anne Glass, Senior At SJ Catholic

Will Represent
Twin Cities In Pontiac Contest

By CHET NEWMAN
Staff Writer

Anne Glass, a blue-eyed, brown-haired St. Joseph Catholic high school senior, is the 1966 Twin Cities Junior Miss.

Anne, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass of route 1, Box 373, Benton Harbor.

Besides capturing the title as the ideal high school senior girl, she won the poise and appearance competition and tied for second runner-up honors in the division of creative and performing arts.

First runner-up for the Junior Miss title is Susan Swanson, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Swanson of 1887 Broadway, Benton Harbor.

Second runner up is Donna Pieracini, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pieracini of 700 Susan drive, St. Joseph.

Miss Glass sang and danced "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" for her talent presentation. Her voice was played on tape while she danced on stage. Her offering was one of ten seen by some 800 people in St. Joseph high school auditorium.

The actual talent competition was Friday night. The Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Jaycees, who annually stage the local Junior Miss Pageant, split it because so many — 34 — girls were entered.

The ten performances were selected to be representative of the Friday night show, Master of Ceremonies Ron Taylor said, and did not necessarily include the winners in that division. As it turned out, the Saturday night audience did see all the division winners perform.

WELL EQUIPPED
Miss Glass, who will participate in the state Junior Miss pageant in March in Pontiac, stands 5-foot-5. She plans to be a teacher or airline stewardess and attend Lake Michigan College or Western Michigan University.

Commented Taylor: "She is quite well equipped for either vocational pursuit."
Her hobbies include sports, filling scrapbooks and driving. She says she enjoys English and physical education in school. Miss Glass was secretary of the junior class, school newspaper editor, a member of the Future Teachers Club and is a district winner of the state forensic contest.

She lists other extracurricular activities of homemaking and working around the house.

Judging in the Junior Miss pageant, unlike "beauty" contests is based on character, citizenship, high school activities, personal ambitions, scholastic ability, creative and performing arts, poise and appearance.

With her title, Miss Glass received a $500 scholarship to the college of her choice. Miss Swanson, the first runner up, got a $250 scholarship and Miss Pieracini received a $150 scholarship.

Cindy Neal of Benton Harbor, winner of the scholastic achievement award won a $100 scholarship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis J. Neal of 1859 Broadway.

Youthful Burglars Are Caught

Two young boys were caught red-handed in a burglary Saturday morning by Benton Township Police Patrolman Thomas Garland.

Garland said township police were called by neighbors of Robert Bacon, 2202 Truman drive, Fairplain, and told a burglary was in progress at the Bacon home.

Garland was dispatched by radio and arrived at the house as the boys were coming out the back. He grabbed one of them and the other one was found a few minutes later hiding in bushes about a block away, police said.

The boys, both Benton Harbor residents, are 15 and 14 years old. They had four watches and several other items of jewelry with them when apprehended, police said.

BEING HELD

The two were lodged in the Berrien county juvenile home, Berrien Center, to appear before juvenile authorities later.

Auto Puts Squeeze On Baroda Man

Leg Pinched In
Freak Accident
In St. Joseph

A 26-year-old Baroda man suffered a bruised leg in a freak mishap Sunday while he was going to church.

James Lee Walters of route 1, box 212, Baroda, was hurt when the back door of his auto was caught by a passing car and pinched his leg against the front door.

Walters, who was standing next to the car, and his father, Fred G. Walters of 520 Madison avenue, St. Joseph, were just going to go to Trinity Lutheran church in St. Joseph. Fred, in the back seat, opened his door slightly to see if he could get out despite an auto stopped alongside.

"I only had the door open about four inches when she pulled ahead. I think her door handle caught my door," said the elder Walters.

The door on Walters' auto was pulled around and trapped him. His father said this morning it was not known if any serious damage was done to his son's leg. The son was scheduled to be X-rayed today.

The driver of the second auto, Mrs. Donald Deckert, 32, of 1485 Union avenue, Benton Harbor, did not receive a traffic court summons, police report.

In other police activity over the weekend, two Jackson youths were arrested for being minors in possession of intoxicants.

Hydroplane Stolen From Stevensville

A 12-foot fiberglass hydroplane was reported stolen from a summer home near Stevensville, and a Fairplain man told Berrien sheriff's deputies he is getting bills for gasoline that has been purchased with credit cards stolen from his car last August.

The boat, owned by Mrs. Priscilla Woleu, Chicago, was taken from her summer home on Marquette Woods road near Stevensville, deputies said. It is valued at about $350.

Charles Reinhold, 348 Chipewa road, Fairplain, said the four credit cards taken from his car are apparently being used. He said he is still getting bills for gas purchased with the cards. On most of the bills, he added, his name is being misspelled.

Bloom'dale Area Barn Burns Down

BLOOMINGDALE — Fire destroyed a barn on the Harold West farm near Chicago this morning.

The cause of the fire has not yet been determined and no estimate of loss was made.

The Bloomingdale fire department went to the fire about four miles northwest of Chicago. In addition to the barn, the fire destroyed a garden tractor and a camper trailer inside the barn.

Will Keep Licensing Bureau

SOUTH HAVEN — A state civil service operated drivers license examination station has been planned for South Haven by the Michigan Department of State. Police Chief Otto Beulow said today.

Beulow said he has received a letter from Robert M. Yake, chief examiner for the state department, in which Yake reported the department plans to retain the local licensing bureau.

"We have already placed our request for the personnel who will operate your station," Yake wrote. "We shall also immediately begin a search for a suitable building or property."

Beulow said there was some question whether the South Haven station would be kept open after the work of issuing drivers licenses was removed from local police jurisdiction in Michigan. The only other licensing bureau for Van Buren county is located at Paw Paw.

Detroit Suburb's Teachers Vote

HARPER WOODS (AP) — Teachers in this East Side Detroit suburb vote today on whether to ratify a new contract with the Harper Woods School Board.

Tentative agreement on a new pact came at an all-night bargaining sessions between the board and Local 1425 of the Harper Woods Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, over the weekend.

Polls Will Be Open Until 8

Lakeshore Also Balloting On Millage Proposal

Polling places will be open until 8 o'clock tonight in six high school districts and 12 elementary school districts of Berrien county in the county school district reorganization election.

In addition, the polls also will be open in Lakeshore district where electors are balloting on a seven-mill tax increase proposal for school operation. Lakeshore is not involved in the reorganization election.

The high school districts involved in the reorganization election, together with the elementary districts proposed for merger to each are:

1. Benton Harbor district and River, Martindale and Riverside.
2. Coloma district and Pier.
3. Watervliet district and Cribbs.
4. Eau Claire district and Eureka, Shanghai, North Maple Grove and LXL.
5. Bridgman district and Hathaway.
6. Buchanan district and Womer and Kansas.

Together with the reorganization election, voters in the Watervliet district are also balloting today on a $425,000 bond issue to furnish and equip the new high school now under construction.

Three Oaks Fire Probe Under Way

THREE OAKS — Investigation is continuing into the cause of a farm fire near Three Oaks early Sunday. It was the fourth mysterious fire in the area in the past month.

The blaze started in an empty corn crib, at the end opposite from electrical fixtures, spread to a garage and then to an empty hog house, destroying all three buildings. Firemen from Three Oaks and Galien were able to keep the fire from spreading to a nearby granary and barn loaded with hay.

Damage from the fire is expected to exceed $3,000. The blaze took place on a farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Martell on Spring Creek road. It was discovered about 1:15 a.m. by members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sriver, occupants of the farm.

THREE OTHERS

In the past month there have been three other mysterious fires in the Three Oaks-Galien area, including a blaze that last week destroyed the abandoned Currier school in Bertrand township. In all cases the fires started on the weekends at around 1 a.m.

The fires are to be investigated by the state fire marshal.

Barn's Hay Mow Burns In Fairplain

Firemen from St. Joseph township Station No. 2 spent more than two and a half hours Sunday afternoon battling a barn blaze at Jakway and Fairplain avenues.

The hay mow of the barn owned by Ed Brink was ignited by grass being burned in the vicinity, firemen report. They said two holes were burned in the roof and others had to be chopped for firemen to throw out hay bales.

The downstairs portion of the building was undamaged, they said. No dollar estimate of the damage to the structure was made.

Firemen were called to the scene at 3 p.m. and returned to their station shortly after 5:30 p.m.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

LAWRENCE — Miss Blanche Denton, district president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, attended the organization's State convention, held in Midland recently.

Van Buren School Districts Vote Today On Annexation

CYCLIST INJURED: Douglas L. Ransom, 17, route 3, Stevensville, suffered multiple leg fractures Sunday afternoon when his cycle and a station wagon driven by Barbara M. Morgan, 45, route 2, Elkhart, Ind., crashed nearly head-on, Berrien Sheriff's Deputy Fred Reeves reported. The car was headed south on old M-11, between Stevensville and Red Arrow highway, and apparently was turning left into a driveway when it met Ransom, Reeves said. Ransom is reported in fairly good condition at Memorial hospital. (Staff photo)

Approval Urged By Committee

It's Second Try
At Reorganization

PAW PAW — Voters in four sections of Van Buren county are voting today on the annexation of eleven primary school districts to high school districts. Polls will remain open until 8 p.m.

The elections are taking place under the "second method" specified by the state school reorganization law. In this method, each affected area votes as an individual unit on whether the annexation should take place.

The Van Buren study committee recommended the annexations, following a study of the county schools, but the question was defeated in an election last May 9. That election was under the "first method," whereby all votes were counted in one lump total.

The four high school districts involved in the elections are Decatur, South Haven, Bangor, and Bloomingdale.

The Decatur area election will determine whether the Code and Celery Center districts will be annexed.

SOUTH HAVEN

The South Haven election involves the annexation of the Crow, Hadaway and Beechdale districts in Allegan county and the Lacota district in Van Buren.

The Bloomingdale question involves the annexation of the Grand Junction school district. Residents of Breedsville, Bangor Center, Wood, and Bangor school districts will vote on annexing the K-8 schools to Bangor.

The voting in the Lakeside district is on whether to split it between the Bangor and Bloomingdale districts.

RECOMMENDED

Each of the areas will be counted individually, with the majority of votes cast in each annexation district to determine the outcome of that particular district.

Under this method, it is possible for some districts to vote for annexation, with others turning down the question. The South Haven area vote, for instance, will have no effect on the Decatur area election.

The annexation of the smaller districts has been recommended by the reorganization committee in order to assure that all students are in a high school district.

Will Name New Buffalo King, Queen

NEW BUFFALO — The New Buffalo high school homecoming king and queen will be announced at a pep rally and bonfire in back of Central school at 7 p.m. Thursday. Crowning ceremonies will be held during the half-time of the New Buffalo-Watervliet football game at New Buffalo on Friday.

The queen candidates are Christine Nekvasil, Donna O'Donnahue, Daryl Novacek, Barbara Gergich and Diane Nimtz. King candidates are Mike Cardl, Randy Kilowitz, Randy Peterson, John Hohn and Jerry Kerns.

TRI-CAP Group Plans Meeting For South Haven

SOUTH HAVEN — The South Haven branch of the Tri-County Community Action Program will hold a regular meeting at the local recreation center Tuesday at 8 p.m. A committee of 24 members will be on hand to welcome all interested area residents. Topic will be establishing a day-care center.

Hurricane Inez Bypasses U.S. Mainland

Aims At Island In Bahamas

Storm Should Die In Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The brawling killer of the tropics, Hurricane Inez, roared up an alley between the resort cities of Miami and Nassau today and aimed her growing fury at the Abaco Islands, "the land that time forgot."

Lashing out to east and west, Inez jabbed at the south Florida coast with gusty winds and squalls and sent a tornado spiraling into Nassau that killed a 16-month-old child.

Directly ahead of the mighty storm which killed perhaps hundreds in the Caribbean Sea, was Great Abaco Island, second largest of the Bahamas and the home of 6,000 persons.

Although Great Abaco is largely populated by natives of African descent, it contains several white communities—settled by loyalist refugees of the American Revolutionary War—where customs have changed little since 1776.

Gale warnings came down along the southeast Florida coast, home of 2.5 million people, after an uneasy Sunday during which Inez hurled squalls into the area, whipping the palm fronds.

NASSAU FLOODED
In Nassau, capital of the Bahamas, flood waters ran two feet deep down some streets in the city of 80,000. The twister lashed a group of shacks occupied by field hands. Three persons are missing.

Weakened and knocked out of shape by her collision with the Sierra mountains of Cuba, Inez wound up tightly again over the Atlantic.

Her top winds were raging at 80 miles an hour around the eye and were expected to reach 100 by the time she roars through the dense pine forests of Abaco late today or early tonight.

Rain bands spread through most of the Bahamas as Inez thrashed very slowly to a point near latitude 25.3 north, longitude 78.6 west, 110 miles east-southeast of Miami and 90 miles west of Nassau.

Small craft were kept pinned down by roughening seas in U.S. ports all the way from Florida to the Virginia Capes, and all through the Bahamas.

50 MPH GUSTS
Gusts up to 50 miles an hour blasted into Miami, but in a city where the building code requires structures that will stand up to 125-mile-an-hour winds, it was no worse than a summer thunderstorm out of the Everglades.

However, the extension of rigging his storm shutters at West Palm Beach caused 81-year-old Stephen J. Kury to collapse with a fatal heart attack.

At 6 a.m., the Weather Bureau estimated that Inez was centered near latitude 25.2 north, longitude 78.9 west, about 150 miles east-southeast of Miami. Top winds were hitting an

She was expected to graze the tiny, thinly-populated islands of Bimini, where there is only one telephone, and then head for Grand Bahama Island and the Abaco Cays. The Weather Bureau said hurricane force winds were expected in the Berry Islands early today and in the Abaco area this afternoon and early tonight.

The U.S. Missile Tracking Station on Grand Bahama was tightly buttoned up. Most of the new resort hotels and industrial plants enticed to the Bahamas by a tax break followed suite.

But at the Freeport Casino, main attraction of the city of 15,000, it was business as usual with the dice clicking and the wheels spinning far into the night.

Nassau got a stronger blow from Inez than Florida because the Bahamas were in the north-east quadrant of the storm, where the fiercest winds were howling. The rains started early Sunday afternoon and kept it up.

Inez, only a shadow of the storm that was believed to have killed hundreds in three Caribbean countries, was making probably her last swipe at land.

A fence of atmospheric conditions was pushing her away from the U.S. mainland and the warm gulstream. Once she gets into the colder latitudes of the Atlantic, she will wither away.

But in Haiti, where she blasted mountain villages for seven hours, she will be long remembered. Three days after her visit, there was still no count on the number dead.

In Guadeloupe, the toll is 26 dead and hundreds injured.

SHELL IN SOLDIER'S BODY: This x-ray picture shows a live 60-millimeter mortar shell lodged just above the hipbone of Vietnamese soldier Nguyen Long, 22. A team of U.S. Navy doctors at Da Nang Naval Hospital removed the shell Saturday and reported Sunday that Long is in excellent condition. (AP Wirephotos)

Were it left to me to decide whether we should have government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter. — Thomas Jefferson.

Every Vote Counts! --- Be Sure To Register!

The deadline for registering to vote in Michigan's November elections is next Monday. Every one who is eligible ought to get registered. No one should let a feeling that "my vote doesn't matter" keep him from the polls. One vote can be mighty important in a democracy.

Sen. Karl Mundt, the South Dakota Republican, tells a story illustrating just how important one vote can be.

An Indiana farmer left his death bed in 1844 to vote for a friend, David Kelso, running for state senator as a Democrat.

Kelso won by one vote, and promptly bolted the Democratic caucus over its choice for U.S. senator. Without his vote, the legislature was deadlocked. Kelso then threatened to vote with the Whigs unless the Democrats nominated Edward Hannegan.

Hannegan was duly elected — by one vote, of course — and arrived in Washington just in time to cast the deciding vote in favor of the admission of Texas to the Union.

Mundt's conclusion: The vote of one dying man made Texas a state and brought on the war with Mexico.

There are some important state and local contests coming up for Southwestern Michigan voters this November. Several promise to be extremely close. Every vote will count.

So let's every eligible voter get registered!

So Many Imponderables In Business Outlook

Leading economists and Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, will address a special conference on the business outlook, to be conducted by the National Industrial Conference Board this Thursday in New York City.

A practicing economist needs luck as well as insight to divine the course of the nation's economy for 1967. The war in Viet Nam and the inscrutable man in the White House are the major imponderables. Moreover, the textbook verities haven't been performing up to expectations. Consider the recent confounding of Wall Street's favorite saws that rising military outlays and inflation mean bullish stock prices.

The uncertainties start with the figuring of special money costs of the Vietnamese war. Informed guesses for fiscal 1967 range from $15 billion to as much as $25 billion. By comparing defense outlays with a year-ago levels, the Treasury in mid-September disclosed that the cost of the war had reached $1.2 billion a month—$14.5 billion at an annual rate.

But Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.), second-ranking Republican on the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, claims the military services already have requested another $15 billion for Viet Nam this fiscal year. He estimates that monthly spending for the war will hit $2.5 billion by January.

The impact of this spending—combined with the regular defense budget and non-postponable Great Society outlays—is considered all but certain to force President Johnson's hand on a stronger investment, presently in the congressional mill, is the down payment. On the horizon is a rise in personal and corporate tax rates next year, if not before. How much of a rise remains unclear.

Inflation already is eating away at disposable income, thus eroding purchasing power. The total increase in consumer prices since August 1965 comes to 3.5 per cent. A typical factory worker had a take-home pay (after taxes) of $88.46 a week in August, a drop of $1.85 since June if price increases are counted in.

If a growing Viet Nam war exerts heavier inflationary pressure in the months ahead, the medicine could become really distasteful. "It is not at all far-fetched," wrote the Washington Post's savvy financial editor, Hobart Rowen, "...to assume that there could be a system of emergency wage and price controls in 1967."

These are the kind of chilling possibilities that muddy up the picture for next year. Add to them such debilitating factors as rising interest rates, tight money, falling housing starts, balance of payments woes, an emerging international money crisis, and Wall Street's bear market (the biggest vote of no confidence so far).

Ackley, President Johnson's top economic adviser, recently stated he isn't at all worried that there will be a recession in 1967. Most business leaders seem to agree; a survey of 1,000 of them by the Nation's Business shows that only one in five foresees a downturn in the economy next year. Nearly half of these responding believe, however, that the 5½-year business boom will at least level off by the end of 1966.

The consensus to date seems to be that there will be no recession far into 1967—but plenty of distortions. These will mean harder times for certain industries and families, and a scary economic climate for everyone.

Johnson will attend a conference with our Vietnam war allies. One nice thing, it won't be a big, unwieldy group.

HE'S SWITCHING

Editor, The News-Palladium:

Our family have been Republicans for over 100 years, ever since my maternal grandfather led the 4th Michigan Cavalry charges under General Rosecrans at Nashville, Murphysboro and Lookout Mountain. Thumpety-bump I dragged his mammoth sword, as a boy down the stairway from the attic where even some Civil War hardtack was stored, to get him to tell me how he swung it, from the saddle of his horse ever ready, to get in the fight. I have heard him tell of "Old Abe," Wisconsin's screaming eagle, perched on a lanyard next to Michigan forces, and how the feathers flew from rebel bullets but "Old Abe" was a lucky mascot and came home to die a natural death in the Badger State.

Our family have voted Republican since my other grandfather served under Grant at Fort Donnellson, Corinth and Vicksburg. One night I stopped for gas at an old log cabin far down on Mississippi US-45 and I said to the man at the pump "Where am I at?" You're at Spanglers Mills." Then I remembered that Spanglers Mills was recorded on my grandfather's honorable discharge, from the Civil War, and I told the man at the station "My grandfather was here 100 years ago." And he remarked "You're a damn Yankee" and cracked a big smile."

We have been Republicans in respect to Abraham Lincoln and for nothing else but love for him. Sure we love our Country. I have some good Republican friends and for every Republican, I have 5 Democrats and more, that have reached down in the business affairs connected with fruit as well as a hundred other things and supported me 100 per cent and all of those Democrat friendships have been mutually gratifying, as well as, lasting. Romney goes to see LBJ, with Sopay, what think now?

Today in my twilight years I am leading a crusade to fabricate the biggest fruit trading market and migrant housing complex in the mid-west. Official Washington tells me "Let's Go" we got the money for a dazzling Plaza on 295 acres at Hartford and I have the support of Cox's Democrat Army — my Republican friends in the town where I was born want to use Democrat money on an ill-located market place, when the horticultural production of Berrien county has gone with the wind. George Romney's office fails to answer my letters. George is for George, everybody is out of step but George. He is so conceited that he slapped Barry Goldwater's face in 1964 including 27 million Americans who voted for the Party of "Old Abe", but he will never get a chance to slap mine, for I am going to vote for Zolton Ferency and if I lived in Berrien County — Mattheussen could have mine too.

GOOD IDEA

Editor, The News-Palladium: Many who bought the giant size Socialist package, The Great Society in 1964, are thoughtfully shaking it down, examining the contents and considering the cost. Two years too late.

To date I have found no one who will buy the same brand in 1968. Hallelujah! The people all agree truth in packaging is a good idea.

RAY CROMLEY Philippine Terrorists Staging Big Comeback

By RAY CROMLEY
MANILA (NEA) — There's a lesson here for the Viet Nam war.

Frequent confirmed reports from the Philippine hill areas tell of a vigorous regrowth of the old Communist Huk terrorist movement — particularly in central Luzon.

The Philippine government is now building up its counter-guerrilla action units.

Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos, in his recent trip to the United States, made it a point to ask for aid to equip 10 Philippine army engineer battalions to work in a stepped-up civic action campaign.

This is like the rerun of an old movie. A number of years before Viet Nam, the Philippines, with American co-operation, organized a vigorous campaign to wipe out the Communist Huk movement and its political and terrorist underground.

That anti-Huk campaign was well-run.

It combined excellent military tactics with a successful forgiveness and resettlement program for those rebels and rebel co-operators who gave themselves up.

When that series of anti-Huk campaigns was over — and it took years — the Communist underground movement seemed dead militarily and politically.

Time passed. It is now clear the Huk movement is not dead. It is growing. The Huk control areas, run active terrorist programs and have their organizers out in surrounding territories as part of an aggressive expansion program.

The Huk movement as of today is no serious threat to the government. But that isn't the point. It's that, like Bermuda grass, these Red undergrounds keep coming back. Officials think the movement dead. Then, presto, it's alive.

In Malaysia there are still pockets of Red guerrillas despite the highly successful British 10-year campaign which "wiped out" the guerrilla movement.

Mao Tse-tung's Reds fought Chiang Kai-shek's government armies for 20 years before winning. Time and again, Mao's Communists were mopped up in bloody campaigns, their numbers reduced to small bands hiding out in isolated areas.

But Mao's Reds kept coming back—regrouping and expanding again with a handful of political-military organizers.

The same problem faces us in South Viet Nam.

A highly successful Viet Cong organizer in one province reported that years back all of his men were wiped out except himself, and two others. They patiently started again from scratch.

The war cannot stop with military victory or even with the establishment of a stable, democratic government.

For even with all this, underground cells will not have been destroyed.

There will need to be a continual alert and counteraction.

There is no easy formula for achieving this vaccination against recurrence.

There will have to be experimenting with one technique after another until the answer is found.

The Doctor's MAILBAG

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I have heard that silicon has an effect on the female breast hormones and stimulates bust development. Is it habit-forming?

A—Silicon is not a drug but a synthetic silica resin which, when introduced into the body, causes little or no reaction in the tissues.

For this reason, it is sometimes used by plastic surgeons to fill in defects left by the removal of tumors. It has also been widely used to build up the breasts in women who think their breasts are too small. This is done by some qualified surgeons. A specially made silicon rubber form is filled with silicon gel and placed under the breast.

Unfortunately, some unethical doctors have been injecting liquid silicon under the breasts with a needle. This procedure has been declared illegal by the Food and Drug Administration because this type of implant does not hold its shape and it interferes with the detection of breast cancer. Two deaths following this operation have been reported. They were caused by the use of an industrial rather than medical grade of silicon.

Q—My 15-year-old daughter has endometriosis. Could it become cancerous? What is the treatment?

A—For some unknown reason the issues (endometrium) lining the uterus may wander into the abdomen and set up little islands of endometrial ovaries. Although the islands are tumors in a sense, they do not become cancerous. They do tend to swell with each menstrual period just as they would if they were in their proper location. If they are attached to the intestines, this causes pain on moving the bowels and generalized abdominal distress.

In young women of childbearing age, prolonged treatment with hormones (Enovid, Lormin or Metrolin) may relieve the symptoms. The alternative is to open the abdomen and remove or cauterize the tumors. In women who are past the child-bearing age, removal of the uterus and ovaries is recommended.

Q—Is there any exercise that will help to relieve constipation?

A—Although various exercises have been advocated for constipation, none is of proven value. Why not increase your intake of vegetables and fruits?

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.
